13:08:17 From Patty : Hi from Maryland - finished the book last night and loved it!

13:08:22 From MaryEllen Kordik : Zoom fatigue doesn't happen when talking about books, in my opinion

13:08:26 From Elizabeth Kemker : Multi-tasking here! Working and listening! The positives of having to work from home :D

13:08:29 From tanya To All Panelists : That has been the bright side of this situation... the ability to see & hear from so many more authors than I would have been able to have met if we weren't forced into the virtual environment

13:09:01 From Susan in TX : Is Bride and Prejudice not Bollywood? Because it was fantastic!

13:09:11 From Ginger Horton : <https://smartbitchestrashybooks.com/2017/05/bollywood-film-recommendations-sonali-dev-asha-ganesan/>

13:09:23 From Elizabeth Meadows : I can't submit if I don't pick a favorite!

13:09:48 From jennyflorence : Same. Just pick the top. 😂

13:09:52 From Sierra DeHaan : I don't actually watch any Bollywood!

13:09:59 From Mary Baker : Add Bride and Prejudice?

13:10:00 From Beth Hampleman To All Panelists : I haven't seen any of the Bollywood movies, so I just picked a random one so I could submit the poll

13:10:11 From Jennifer Odom : I picked the first but I haven't seen any of them. It won't let you submit without picking something.

13:10:17 From Cait Burgess : I have watched Bollywood movies, but I don't know the titles... lovr

13:10:27 From Michele Chambers : I had the same problem. I just picked Monsoon Wedding because Anne mentioned it. I've never watched Bollywood before.

13:10:48 From Tracy Kaufman : I haven't heard of any of these movies. I picked the first one too.

13:10:49 From Cait Burgess : oops love Bollywood

13:10:52 From MaryEllen Kordik : I haven't seen any Bollywood movies and I can't submit the poll without one

13:11:03 From Ginger Horton : Don't forget to change your chat To: All Panelists AND Attendees. If you have questions for our author, put those in the Q & A feature any time.

13:11:04 From Ashley Ewing : Same! I just picked Monsoon Wedding too.

13:11:06 From jennyflorence : I just picked the top.

13:11:35 From Tracy Marie Foster : me too, I just picked one, I have never seen any of them.

13:11:50 From Sierra DeHaan : I picked the top. I'm going to add these to my Netflix DVD queue. My husband is going to be so confused

13:12:24 From Michele Chambers : I took a screenshot of the list of films.

13:12:25 From Tracy Marie Foster : lol, I made my husband his own profile on Netflix. he is so glad there are no more cartoons mixed in with his list.

13:12:43 From Cait Burgess : the poll should have included unknown or none

13:12:59 From Mary Baker : I just picked Monsoon Wedding because now I want to watch it!

13:13:13 From Sierra DeHaan : I want to watch it too!!

13:14:10 From Brenda : Just ordered 2 Dev books from my library.

13:14:42 From Cait Burgess : Aishwarya Rai is gorgeous

13:15:26 From Kendra Rousseau : When Anne says which season one "should" read each Jane Austen book (ex: Persuasion should be read in the fall), what season does she say for Sense and Sensibility?

13:15:45 From Nancy Rex : I'm listening to Recipe for Persuasion right now and am loving it!!

13:16:06 From Sierra DeHaan : I didn't realize that there were seasons to read each Austen!

13:16:07 From Cait Burgess : I loved bollywood because the movies were so innocent

13:16:22 From Tracy Marie Foster : I could listen to Sonali talk all day about anything.

13:17:18 From Tracy Kaufman : Just downloaded the audio of Pride, Prejudice, and Other Flavors from my library and put a hold on Recipe for Persuasion audio. Can't wait to listen!

13:17:26 From Janean : We need to all now pronounce literature the way she does. So perfect and precise.

13:17:29 From Kendra Rousseau : Anne just says that the titles are especially enjoyable in certain seasons 😊

13:18:04 From Susan in TX : Janean, it's our lack of colonial education, which I think I would've loved as an anglophile :)

13:18:17 From Ginger Horton : I'm not sure if Anne has ever prescribed Sense & Sensibility for any season like she definitely has for some others. I'm hoping she'll correct me if I'm wrong, but I could see S & S being great in the spring. Or the fall... it just feels like a season change book to me.

13:18:42 From Kendra Rousseau : Thank you, Ginger!

13:18:47 From Janean : S&S is always a good idea 🙌

13:19:13 From Elizabeth Kemker : Yes! S&S was my first Austen, and always my favorite. I feel like it's a good Spring read.

13:19:41 From Tracy Marie Foster : Northanger Abbey was my first Jane Austen, and so far the only one. I have Emma downloaded for this month.

13:20:30 From Sierra DeHaan : I've read them all so long ago that I don't remember which was my first.

13:20:48 From Jenn : dreams are speeches we give to ourselves in the shower Love This!

13:21:20 From MaryEllen Kordik : I'm loving this!

13:21:27 From Michele Chambers : I reserved Pride, Prejudice and other flavors at my library. I've never read any of her books.

13:21:34 From Sierra DeHaan : Persuasion is my favorite, so I'm super excited about Sonali's book!!

13:21:39 From Caroline Lohmann : I love the idea that her series is an homage to what she learned from Austen's books!

13:21:49 From Cait Burgess : I hope we watch a bollywood movie together! They are so beautiful!

13:21:51 From Michele Chambers : I also love Persuasion.

13:22:26 From Patty To All Panelists : Listening to Emma now, my first Austen.

13:22:38 From Janean : Hamilton vibes - not gonna waste my shot

13:22:41 From Elizabeth Kemker : Persuasion is one I have not read, sadly. It's only my list for this fall, then Recipe for Persuasion as a follow up!

13:22:44 From Kate Donnelly To All Panelists : I like her philosophy!

13:22:59 From jennyflorence : Yaaaasssss, Janean!

13:23:00 From Tracy Marie Foster : Can you read Recipe for Persuasion before reading Pride, Prejudice and other flavors?

13:23:09 From Michele Chambers : Love that point of second chances.

13:23:26 From Michele Chambers : @Tracy Marie, I was going to ask the same thing.

13:23:33 From lesliebasham To All Panelists : Me too!

13:23:42 From Susan in TX : Tracy, yes! They aren't related - there are some carry over characters, but you don't need to read them in order.

13:23:54 From Tracy Marie Foster : Thank you!

13:24:04 From Michele Chambers : Thank you @Susan in TX

13:24:27 From Sierra DeHaan : Hooray! Thank you @Susan in TX. I have Recipe from the library but I haven't read Other Flavors yet.

13:24:28 From Mary Baker : Both books are stand-alones but I think reading the first gives you really good background in the family situation

13:24:37 From Janean : Blasted patriarchy

13:24:37 From Ginger Horton : If you have questions for our author, put those in the Q & A feature any time.

13:24:41 From Tricia Nelson : omg I love her!!!

13:24:42 From tanya To All Panelists : I think that I would love to her as a professor...

13:24:49 From tanya To All Panelists : love to have her...

13:24:58 From jane To All Panelists : Love this!

13:25:26 From Ginger Horton : Yay!

13:25:26 From Mary Baker : I read Pride ... second and it was fine - but then I wanted to go back and check on the characters in Persuasion... definitely glad I read the first one!

13:25:48 From Tracy Marie Foster : I wish we had an enamored emoticon for this chat.

13:25:51 From Tricia Nelson : can we read in any order?

13:25:54 From Elizabeth Kemker : Love it!!

13:25:54 From Shawntaye : Love that.

13:25:57 From Donna Hetchler : That's great!

13:25:59 From Ginger Horton : HAND CLAPS!

13:26:00 From Kelli Roberts : I can't wait for this!

13:26:01 From Emily : Awesome title!

13:26:04 From Tracy Marie Foster : woo hoo!

13:26:11 From Martha Baldwin : love that title

13:26:17 From Susan Meissner To All Panelists : I love love love that title!

13:26:18 From Mary Baker : Can't wait- Yahsa's story!!

13:26:26 From Michele Chambers : Great title

13:26:30 From Jenny Graham To All Panelists : can't wait to keep reading!

13:26:35 From JuliaPR : Love that title!

13:26:37 From Susan in TX : I can't wait for this one!

13:26:39 From Nicole Siswick To All Panelists : Her books are books that I would definitely pick based solely on their covers! Gorgeous artwork and fun titles.

13:26:43 From Elizabeth Kemker : Sounds very Eleanor. Very interior.

13:26:46 From Janelle Carlson : Going to be great!

13:26:51 From anne : hi everybody

13:26:56 From Kelli Roberts : Sounds fantastic!

13:27:08 From Michelle N : What made you decide to set the book at a Food Network cooking show?

13:27:27 From Patty To All Panelists : Sounds great, can't wait!

13:27:27 From MaryEllen Kordik : @Michelle ask that in the Q&A tab!

13:27:31 From Sierra DeHaan : So excited about these!!

13:27:32 From anne : i'm late :(

13:28:03 From Denise Sande : Hello from Bakersfield; I managed to get on!

13:28:08 From Michelle N : Thanks MEK...and Anne....I typed in the wrong box!

13:28:12 From Janean : Everyone loves Marianne, but I adore Elinor

13:28:13 From Ginger Horton : If you're just joining us, don't forget to change your chat To: All Panelists AND Attendees. If you have questions for our author, put those in the Q & A feature any time.

13:28:24 From Jessicaturner To All Panelists : interested in the setting at the Food Network

13:28:28 From jennyflorence : Hmmmm. I have to think about that one.

13:28:36 From tanya To All Panelists : @anne...its being recorded, so you'll be able to see the whole thing (and for some of us...it will a re-watch. She's great!)

13:29:00 From Elizabeth Kemker : @Janean, Elinor is my favorite too.

13:29:07 From Michele Chambers : Janean, I also adore Elinor. I think because I am more like Elinor myself.

13:29:11 From readerreet To All Panelists : wow. so many things to think about. didn't expect that.

13:29:25 From Jennifer Odom : I'm totally an Elinor

13:29:36 From Sierra DeHaan : She's describing Sense & Sensibility and I was so confused because I was picturing Mansfield Park. She makes me want to go reread all the Austen novels

13:29:39 From Janean : same @Michele. yay @Elizabeth!

13:29:51 From Susan in TX : Eleanor is my favorite - she's who I always get on those "which Jane Austen character are you" quizzes

13:29:54 From jane : Elinor is my favorite too! I can't relate to Marianne.

13:30:04 From MaryEllen Kordik : @Sierra maybe your book twin will read them with you. ;)

13:30:14 From Michele Chambers : Me too @Susan in TX

13:30:19 From Janean : #teamElinor!!

13:30:38 From Janean : She's the glue

13:30:39 From Sierra DeHaan : @MaryEllen I think I can probably persuade her, ;)

13:30:59 From Tracy Marie Foster : lolol

13:31:13 From Caroline : I need a Darcy bib!!

13:31:14 From Elizabeth Kemker : I loved the dramatic romanticism of Marianne, but always knew I'm way more pragmatic and more inwardly romantic like Elinor.

13:31:35 From Janean : That's interesting

13:32:27 From Joyce & Dave To All Panelists : I love the gender flip in Pride and Prejudice and other Flavors!

13:33:53 From Janelle Carlson : I did not realize the Indian population was only 1% in USA. I'm surprised by that, thought it would be higher.

13:34:13 From Michele Chambers : I did too Janelle.

13:34:17 From Susan in TX : Janelle, me too.

13:34:53 From Lisa Garay : Same but our perceptions of that are really based on where we live and who we see around us

13:35:34 From Sierra DeHaan : Our perceptions are definitely affected by where we grew up and where we live.

13:35:37 From Janelle Carlson : That's certainly true @Lisa Garay

13:37:00 From Kate Donnelly : I've learned so much about the mind workings of the author. Much more complex than I have heard an author express.

13:37:27 From Martha Baldwin : I wish that there were recipes at the end of the book - bitter melon stuffed with fried onions from Curried Dreams or reality tv tacos

13:37:27 From Denise Sande : Almost 40% of my students are Hindu in the community teach in Central CA. They are from well educated professional families but arranged marriages are still discussed and hoped for by some parents. The author's work is extremely important. More of my high school students need to experience her writing!

Recipe for Persuasion is the first book of Ms. Dev's book. I will be pushing them!

13:39:00 From Brenda To All Panelists : My daughter is married to a man from India. They chose to move to Okemos Michigan to raise their children because of the high percent of Indians there. She didn't want her son to be the only brown boy in his class, Her thinking is validated by Dev.

13:39:38 From Jennifer Odom : The sibling/cousin/family stuff will make more sense if you read them in order

13:40:16 From Kayla Stierwalt : Denise, I'm 30 and had a friend from India who considered an arranged marriage. I know numerous Saudi students and friends who have had arranged marriages too. It is still hard to grasp, but it's definitely relevant.

13:40:24 From Joyce & Dave To All Panelists : Yes, you are right Jennifer Odom.

13:40:37 From Denise Sande : I started with Recipe for Persuasion and don't feel I missed anything. . . I will read the other!

13:41:12 From jennyflorence : I'm so curious about Indian royalty! I can't wait to do a google search!

13:41:30 From Kari Sweeney : YEAH!

13:41:30 From Ginger Horton : Either way... Sonali's favorite indie:

<https://www.womenandchildrenfirst.com/book/9780062839053>

13:41:44 From Ginger Horton : Recipe for Persuasion: <https://www.womenandchildrenfirst.com/book/9780062839077>

13:43:07 From Denise Sande : True Kayla: I have students from the Middle East who will have arranged marriages. These girls tell me at least they are permitted a college education prior to the marriage.

13:43:09 From Marcy Ratcliff : when I first saw Recipe for Persuasion in the reading guide and saw it was a follow-up, I immediately put Pride, Prejudice, and Other Flavors on hold. Then I promptly forgot it wasn't the original recommended novel, and I was so happily surprised that the next book was "already" out! 😊

13:44:05 From Kayla Stierwalt : True Denise. Not all those women have that opportunity. I've had a lot more men students than women.

13:44:38 From Tracy Marie Foster : I bought them both, but with Emma and Jane Austen Society and a couple others I have to read this month, I don't think I'll get both of them read this month, I'll have to read one next month. So, I'll probably read them out of order.

13:45:27 From Jennifer Odom : When I read the heart transplant book I thought, wow, this author is brave.

13:45:40 From tanya : Not incredibly stupid... rather fearless!

13:45:47 From Susan in TX : Jennifer, which book was that?

13:45:58 From Denise Sande : Kayla, interestingly enough, the boys do not discuss this with me at all. They will share information about their parents' arranged marriages vs "Love matches".

13:46:33 From Jennifer Odom : The one she's talking bout = Change of Heart

13:46:39 From Susan in TX : Thanks!

13:47:17 From Janelle Carlson : I'd love to read it, sounds great!

13:47:18 From Kelli Roberts : Wow - I definitely want to read that one!

13:52:54 From bfranke811@gmail.com To All Panelists : Who is the author for that book?
13:53:27 From Kari Sweeney : I agree Sonali- It's wonderful.
13:53:48 From Kayla Stierwalt : Denise, they are tight lipped. They are all so protective of the culture. I've been with one for five years. It's quite interesting.
